CALL TO FIGHT PLAN FOR WASTE TIP AT BEAUTY SPOT

Applicants say risk of odours and emissions is 'low' but campaign group urge residents to speak up before deadline for comments

Report by Henry James

CAMPAIGNERS are urging West Lancs residents to tell Lancashire County Council what they think of plans to tip half-a-million tonnes of 'inert' waste at Parbold Hill, before the deadline for comments at 5pm on Wednesday, July 3.

The proposals include four lorry tipping bays only 20 metres from parking spaces at the popular local attraction where people stop to admire views stretching from Blackpool over Merseyside to Ashurst Beacon.

According to campaign group ARROW, although inert waste - often made up of building waste, gravel, sand, and stone - is not meant to include hazardous material or produce any landfill gasses, in practice it is often contaminated so can create gasses.

And they believe the problem with the Parbold plan is that the inert waste will be tipped on top of municipal or general waste buried there around 30 years ago, possibly disturbing the old landfill.

However, a statement issued by agents for the applicants said the risk of odours and fugitive emissions is 'low'; while the county council said the applicant will have to "demonstrate very special circumstances to justify the location of the development in the Green Belt."

Parbold Hill.

Del Ellis of campaign group ARROW said: "Tipping lorries will spoil the view in the exact place where people stop to admire the beautiful scenery at the top of Parbold Hill on the A5209.

"Who would want to buy an ice cream 20 metres from a lorry tipping waste?"

The new application says that the existing landfill height has sunk by nine metres. The new owner wants to raise the height by adding half-a-million tonnes of inert waste.

Restoration

The proposal accepts that noise, vibration, dust and fugitive emissions will be high and that there will be 'medium odour' at the beauty spot.

A second application to West Lancashire Borough Council will follow for restoration and aftercare of the site. This will include a leisure area with wildflower pastures and the development of 24 holiday lodges in the woodland to the south of the site.

ARROW claims that large swathes of mature woodland will be felled to build the holiday lodges. And Del Ellis added: "The company is calling the plan a restoration initiative but it is in reality a landfill application. It is important that we all write

Equine therapy is a winner with nursing home residents . . .

RESIDENTS at a nursing home in Skelmersdale have been enjoying the benefits of a different kind of therapy - thanks to a visit from a new equine friend.

Staff at the Stocks Hall Nursing Home welcomed 10-year-old trained therapy donkey, Snowy, to the home in White Moss Road, West Gillibrands to give residents and their families the chance to meet and enjoy a multi-sensory experience with the gentle-natured animal.

Animal-assisted therapy has been shown to be very beneficial in elderly care, as physical contact with the animals encourages communication and can reduce stress and anxiety and even improve motor skills and self-esteem.

Home manager, Sue King, said: "Therapy donkeys have been carefully selected for their superb temperaments. They can provide great therapeutic value, especially to those living with advanced dementia.

"Donkeys seem to have a special way of knowing just what a person needs. They instinctively know when to approach someone who is a little shy or to hang back if someone needs a little space.

"Snowy really lifted everyone's spirits. He was even able to visit the bedrooms of people who are severely ill and bed-bound, spreading much joy around."

County chiefs claim 'positive steps' taken to bridge funding gap

Report by Henry James

LANCASHIRE County Council chiefs say that new figures have shown "positive steps" have been made to address a funding gap which has been forecast at the authority.

Members of the cabinet were told at their latest meeting that a revenue underspend for the 2018/19 financial year has resulted in a much lower net reduction in reserves than was originally budgeted for.

The final financial outturn position at the end of 2018/19 showed there had been a net expenditure of £745.375m, which represents an underspend of £19.265m (2.52 per cent).

A report presented by council leader, Councillor Geoff Driver, showed that at the end of the 2018/19 financial year, £164.254m was available in the transitional reserve, set up to support the revenue budget, which is £24.893m better than previously forecast.

The council has previously indicated it would have sufficient funds remaining in reserves to support its budget until 2022/23, but is working on a number of measures to help it set sustainable budgets in future years without the use of reserves.

Councillor Geoff Driver.

The report states there were a number of areas where differences to the expected 2018/19 budget had been recorded. These included:

• £27.566m more than expected due to the sale of bonds and lower borrowing costs.

• £3.945m underspend by Public Health and Wellbeing due to staff vacancies and a reduced spend across commissioned services.

• £4.524m underspend by Waste Services due to a combination of reduced waste and operating costs and additional income.

• £10.234m overspend due to a reduced income from one-off capital receipts.

• £2.908 overspend in Education and Children's Services as a result of agency staffing and child placement costs;

Work is still progressing to identify additional savings aimed at reducing the requirement for reserves in 2020/21 and beyond to achieve sustainability.

Cllr. Driver said: "Like all councils we face significant financial pressures, which means difficult financial decisions have had to be taken and there is careful monitoring of all spending. Unfortunately more difficult decisions will be needed in the future.

"Our aim is to achieve a balanced budget without a reliance on reserves, to ensure the council is on a stable footing, and these figures show very positive steps have been made to ensuring this. However we also want to ensure we provide the best services possible for the people of Lancashire, particularly our older residents and children who need our help and support.

"Adult services and education and children's services, where £344.965m and £160.406m were spent respectively in the last financial year, are the largest service areas for expenditure covering almost 68% of our net budget."

Chance for public to talk about their policing priorities at Concourse event

SKELMERSDALE residents will be given an opportunity to outline what they would like to see prioritised in the fight against crime when a 'Let's Talk Policing' event is be held at the Concourse shopping centre on Tuesday, July 9.

Running from 10am to 1pm, the event is one of a series organised by Lancashire's Police and Crime Commissioner Clive Grunshaw at venue across the county throughout the summer.

The commissioner is asking residents for their views on policing priorities as demands on the service continue to grow.

To this end he has launched an online survey and announced the events where members of the public will be invited to comment on crime and policing in their area.

Lancashire's Police and Crime Commissioner Clive Grunshaw.

These will continue to inform his Police and Crime Plan which sets out how the police and community safety partners work together to keep Lancashire safe.

Mr Grunshaw said: "I am committed to listening and engaging with the public to understand their concerns and issues and ensure that Lancashire Police is meeting their needs.

"For the first time since 2010, thanks to support from the public, investment will be made into policing here in Lancashire with additional officers going into every district across the county, focusing on reducing and preventing crime and dealing with the issues that matter most to people.

"Specialist target teams are also being strengthened to tackle cross border crime and criminality, focusing on burglary and robbery and there will be more detectives following previous public feedback to prioritise investigations around major crimes, child exploitation and domestic abuse.

"With the Government not providing any extra resources but passing the burden onto council tax payers, I want to get a clear view from the public about their priorities and how safe and confident they feel.

"Having made savings of £84m since 2010 with a further £18m to find by 2022, with fewer officers and resources, it is even more important to ensure that our plans meet operational needs but also public priorities.

"The chief constable and I have a shared ambition for the constabulary to remain as one of the top forces in the country and to be recognised as an outstanding service. Listening to people's views is an important part of this process."

The commissioner's survey was launched online from last Friday (June 14) and will run throughout the summer until Monday, September 16.

Residents urged to fight plans for waste tip at beauty spot to the county council to object to planning application LCC/2019/0028 by emailing devcon@lancashire.gov.uk.

"Calling it a 'restoration project' appears to be an attempt to avoid council policies which say there is no need for further landfill in this area.

"We don't want this development. We also don't want to be left with a half-completed project. With the application being split into two halves it creates a risk of that happening."

In response a statement by Peter Dickinson Architects, acting as agents for the applicant, Mayfield Investments Ltd, read: "The proposal for the former Parbold Quarry is to carry out vital land restoration works to prevent rainwater percolating into the former landfill where it becomes polluted and requires pumping from the site. The land has become depressed over time due to a lack of site maintenance, which was unforeseen by the previous landowners which the applicants must now rectify.

"In response to ARROW, the supporting Risk Assessment carried out by Terra Consult states that both the risk of odours and fugitive emissions is 'low' following their risk management recommendations. The statement by ARROW has overlooked the risk management recommendations.

"The applicants are extremely conscious of the existing site as a favoured local beauty spot and have included the construction of a much needed car park which will provide a wider range of views than the current layby and will resolve current highway safety concerns and provide an enhanced visitor experience. The car park is located sufficiently away from the proposed material delivery area so that visitor experiences will not be impacted by the works.

"The works are described as restoration as they are restoring the site to the original approved levels and use inert materials which are distinctly different to the previous landfill operations. By definition inert materials do not break down either biologically or chemically.

"The applicants have been advised by both Lancashire County Council and West Lancashire Borough Council that the future recreational and leisure development must be part of a separate application. The work to restore the site levels, to their originally approved state, is vital to prevent further rainwater penetration and contamination.

"A full statement is available at www.peterdickinson.co.uk/blog-page."

A spokesman for Lancashire County Council added: "We will consider any responses received to the consultation when making a decision on this application. If planning permission were to be granted, a condition would be applied requiring agreement of a restoration scheme providing for the reclamation and landscaping of the site in the event that the separate application to the borough council does not get approved or does not proceed.

"As the site is within the Green Belt, the applicant will have to demonstrate very special circumstances to justify the location of the development."

Nature lovers wanted to join the Rangers' Beacon Park 'Bioblitz'!

PEOPLE with a passion for their local wildlife are being urged to head for the 'Bioblitz' at Beacon Country Park this Saturday and Sunday, June 22 and 23.

West Lancashire Borough Council's Countryside Rangers are aiming to record as many of the park's plant and animal species as possible over one weekend - and they need help!

Maps and record sheets will be available outside the Ranger Office in the park's Visitor Centre all weekend. People are encouraged to explore areas of the park to record as many different plants and animal species that they can identify - be it birds, bees or butterflies - if it's there then the Rangers want to know.

If people find something interesting at the park that they can't identify then they are advised take a photo. Pictures can then be posted on the Rangers' Facebook page for identification purposes and inclusion in the results.

Anyone with an area of expertise in wildlife or plants and wildflowers interested in helping at the event is asked to contact the Rangers by email to beacon.park@westlancs.gov.uk.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, West Lancs Council's cabinet member for leisure, said: "If you are interested in finding out more about your local wildlife and environment then the Bioblitz is just the event for you. The information you collect with the Rangers will provide a valuable insight into life in Beacon Country Park."

As well as collating data from surveys and photographs, the Rangers are organising the following introductory walks over the weekend to help people find out more about the park's animal and plant life:

Saturday, June 22: Meadow surveying midday to 1pm; bird identification 2 to 3pm; pond dipping 4 to 5pm; moth trapping 9.30pm.

Sunday, June 23: Dawn chorus walk 4.30am; moth identification 7 to 8am; mammal surveying 9 to 10am; bees and wasps 11am to midday

Booking is not required for these sessions but residents are being asked to register their interest by ringing 01695 622794 or emailing beacon.park@westlancs.gov.uk.

Jail for drug-trafficking pair tracked travelling to and from Skelmersdale

TWO men who were tracked travelling to and from Skelmersdale have been jailed for their part in transporting 33 vacuum packed kilo blocks of cocaine, worth more than £2.6m.

Officers involved in an investigation by the joint National Crime Agency and Met Police Organised Crime Partnership (OCP) observed Dean Melody, 46, from Hertfordshire, and Arthur Boxall, 52, from Essex, travelling north on the M6 motorway in two separate white transit vans towards Skelmersdale on October 25 2018.

After the pair stayed the night in the town, the following morning, both vans travelled back down the M6 and were stopped just south of the Toddington services on the M1.

During a search of Melody's van, officers found a locked chest behind the driver's seat with a false compartment. Within this, 33 vacuum packed kilo blocks of cocaine were recovered.

Boxall's van was also searched and an encrypted mobile phone was seized. Both were arrested on suspicion of conspiracy to supply class A drugs.

When tested, the cocaine was found to have a purity of between 60% and 95%, with an estimated street value of more than £2.6m.

Melody pleaded guilty before the trial began but Boxall was found guilty by a jury at Kingston Crown Court.

They were both sentenced at Kingston Crown Court receiving prison terms of 12 and 22 years respectively.

Matt McMillan, the Met's OCP operations manager, said: "Disrupting the supply of class A drugs and the violence it fuels is a priority for the NCA and our partners. We have ensured that the 33 kilos of cocaine that Boxall and Melody were found with will not get onto the streets of the UK."

Alan Lewis, chairman of the Skelmersdale Veterans' Association, said: "We would like to thank Mandy and Margaret Huyton and staff at the Evermoor Hub for a fantastic dinner."

As part of the anniversary commemorations, the veterans also laid poppy wreaths and a number of poppy crosses at the war memorial in Skelmersdale.

They were joined by Jim Oates from the Skelmersdale Ex-Servicemens' Association who also laid a wreath.

Public asked to put forward suitable sites for travellers

Local authority obliged to comply with national planning policy

WEST Lancs Council is asking residents to suggest sites in the borough which they think might be suitable for travellers or for travelling showpeople.

National planning policy requires local authorities to ensure that enough sites are made available within their boundaries to meet the needs of the travelling community.

And the lack of allocated sites in West Lancashire means that the borough is more vulnerable to the establishment of illegal encampments and weakens the council's ability to take quick and effective action to secure the removal of such.

The council is looking for three types of sites as follows:

- Those which may be used for travellers to base themselves throughout most of the year.
- Those for travelling showpeople to live and store their equipment outside their touring season.

Councillor David Evans.

- Those to meet the short-term transit needs of travellers who are passing through West Lancashire on their way to other destinations or who choose to occasionally visit the area for short periods.

Councillor David Evans, cabinet member for planning, said: "We know the issue of sites for the travelling community can be emotive and controversial. But this council needs to comply with national policy, and so we are looking to find the best possible sites to meet the needs of the established travelling community in West Lancashire.

"We are asking landowners and the public to make us aware of any sites that they know about that could be suitable."

Details of potential sites should be received by the council no later than Wednesday, July 31 and should be submitted on the official form. This will be available from Monday at www.westlancs.gov.uk/planningpolicy, or from the council offices, or can be requested by phoning 01695 585284.

The council will consider all appropriate sites suggested with a view to the most suitable potentially being proposed for allocation in any future Local Plan.

Mia's community work earns her civic recognition

Nine-year-old lauded as 'fitting ambassador' for town

Report by Henry James

A NINE-year-old girl from Skelmersdale who received a High Sheriff of Lancashire's Young Citizen Award nomination earlier this year for her community work, has been recognised again.

Mia Creswell Garry was invited to the Mayor of West Lancashire's chamber for afternoon tea with the Mayor, Councillor, Gaynar Owen and Deputy Mayor, Councillor Terry Aldridge, where she was also presented with a certficate.

The youngster, who goes to Woodland Community Primary School in Birch Green was nominated for the High Sheriff prize by Skelmersdale Action For Youth and Skelmersdale Veterans' Association (SVA).

They said the youngster had given "outstanding service to the community," which has a "long-term, significant impact and stands out as an example to others."

During her visit she was also invited to try on the mayoral hat and robe for size!

Alan Lewis, chairman of the Skemersdale Veterans' Association, said: "Mia has helped with a number of activity days aimed at working with siblings of gang members on the estates of Skelmersdale.

"She has also helped run the early action events working in partnership with agencies, including Skelmersdale Police, Wigan Athletic Community Trust, Lancashire Fire & Rescue, the Community Safety Partnership, the Evermoor Hub Community Centre and Skelmersdale Veterans' Association.

"Mia has lead by example in all the sessions demonstrating positive communication and engagement with the above agencies. Some of the activities she has supported include sessions of turfboarding crazy carts, Cardiff skate, Mad Max cart, crossbow and team games.

"She has helped at Skelmersdale Veterans' Association on open days or by taking leaflets around the estates letting residents know what is happening on the estate and the activities.

"She has also given support to her grandad helping collect for the Royal British Legion's Poppy Appeal and helped raise more than £15,900 with the Veterans' Association at ASDA and the Concourse Skelmersdale."

Mia is also on the school council at Woodland Primary supporting other young people in her school.

Walkers seeking planning permission for workshop extension to production area at West Pimbo site

BOSSES at Walkers Snack Foods Ltd. have submitted a planning application to West Lancs Council for permission to build a single-storey workshop extension to the production area at their Skelmersdale base in Pennine Place, West Pimbo.

The extension would be in an existing site yard, which is surrounded by the established development of industrial units and warehouses.

The area proposed for development, including external works, is about 150m².

A coal mining risk assessment has been carried out for the application. It points out that The West Lancashire District Development Risk map, which was published on April 20, 2016 by the Coal Authority, identifies the wider Walker Snack Foods Ltd.site as being a Development Low Risk Area.

Some zones of the site fall into the Development High Risk Areas but not the specific development area in question.

The Coal Mining Risk Assessment goes on to state: "A full Site Investigation Report was produced during the earlier large scale development of the site. The findings and conclusions of this report are considered to still stand and remain valid for the proposed development, and are considered to provide the basis and evidence for this assessment.

"This report states that there is no risk from coal or from previous mine workings. This has also been validated by all subsequent development works on site since 2004, where no issues have been encountered in the extensive construction works that have taken place on site.

Delegated

"Furthermore, the current proposed workshop extension, sat alongside the main Production Building has only shallow foundations, approximately 1m deep, so again any risk is mitigated."

The assessment concludes that, "previous site work, proposed foundations and Coal Authority records all point towards a no-to-low risk for the proposed development in regards to encountering or disturbing coal in the ground or the remains of previous coal workings."

A decision on the application will be delegated to the council's director of development and regeneration for determination unless a councillor requests that it be considered by the planning committee.

Ward councillors have until Friday, July 5 to respond to the application.

Mayor attends school banner presentation

THE Mayor of West Lancashire, Councillor Gaynar Owen, attended the presentation of a 'Sew Science' banner undertaken by children at St Richard's Catholic Primary School in Skelmersdale and organised by the Sewing Rooms.

Skem councillor hosts Older People's Network meeting

SKELMERSDALE borough councillor Claire Cooper hosted the Local Authority Elected Members' Older People's Champions North West Network meeting held in the Chapel Gallery in Ormskirk.

The event was opened and chaired by County Councillor Margaret Pattinson and attendees were welcomed by the Mayor of West Lancashire, Councillor Gaynar Owen.

Older People's Champions from across the North West attended, alongside former Older People's Champions, Councillor May Blake and Councillor Terry Devine.

The meeting was also attended by representatives for Lancashire Adult Learning, the Fire Service, Edge Hill University, Aughton and Ormskirk U3A and Age UK.

Cllr. Cooper said: "I was delighted to host this event. The Network is lobbying for the Government to have a Minister specifically for Older People who will campaign for the many concerns of the over-50s."

At the Network meeting Councillor Sue Bibby, the Older People's champion for Ribble Valley was unanimously elected as the new chair.

Councillor Claire Cooper.

During the event the team from West Lancs Council's Home Care Link outlined the service it provides to residents in Sheltered Housing, in local residents homes and for Sefton Council. The team also gave information and demonstrations of equipment available to residents who want to keep safe in their own homes.

‘Financial crisis’ rumours prompt union chief’s demand for Northern rail franchise to come back under public ownership

THE general secretary of the Transport Salaried Staffs’ Association (TSSA), Manuel Cortes, has called for the Government to “put passengers first” and bring the Northern rail franchise back under public ownership.

The call follows speculation within the industry that Northern is facing a serious financial crisis.

Mr Cortes said: “The Government must act now and put passengers first. By all accounts Northern is failing and therefore can’t be allowed to stagger on for months causing yet more misery for passengers.

“A failing franchise won’t only not provide proper services, it’s likely to overlook non-urgent repairs and there is also the distinct possibility of overall safety being compromised. That is something this union will never allow.”

Northern has been contacted for comment.

Engineering company highly commended at national awards scheme

Report by Henry James

A SKELMERSDALE-based geotechnical engineering company which has only been in business for just over three years has been recognised at a prestigious national industry awards scheme.

MacGeo Ltd, in Gillbrands Road, was highly commended at the Ground Engineering Awards 2019.

The company was one of a select few singled out as a finalist in the Equipment Innovation category for their MacLab mobile logging and testing facility.

Competition was strong with other finalists including notable organisations such as Bachy Soletanche, Cambridge University and Transport for London.

And despite not winning on the night, MacGeo was formally recognised by receiving Highly Commended status for their category.

Efficiency

The judges selected the MacGeo's entry as "a very close runner-up" for its potential to "drive up the quality of ground investigation data by drawing from best practice elsewhere".

The MacLab was developed with the intention of increasing efficiency and improving the quality of sample processing on site by creating a comfortable, safe, mobile facility with an internal layout that focuses entirely on sample processing quality and sample production efficiency.

MacGeo was established in 2015 by managing director, Paul McHugh, who studied Physical Geography at Liverpool John Moores University.

And in just over three years of trading the company has grown from strength to strength, with teams working on projects throughout the country providing a range of geotechnical engineering services.

The company has been responsible for managing a number of key signature projects including the proposed Silvertown Tunnel beneath the River Thames, linking Greenwich Peninsula and Silvertown, and HS2 Align, the largest ground investigation project in the UK.

'Amazing'

Paul McHugh said: "I couldn't be happier. This is a fantastic achievement for the company, myself and the team.

"The whole process has been amazing and it didn't stop at just being shortlisted. We had to travel to London to present to a panel of judges, which included a virtual tour of the MacLab and a question-and-answer session.

"We have only been in business a little over three years, but it goes to show that embracing innovation and finding ways to do things better can make companies such as ours stand out in the field.

"Just being a finalist meant that our company was shown alongside some of the biggest names in the industry. To have that extra level of formal recognition in a room of around 1,000 key industry figures is a serious amount of exposure for our business and I couldn't be more proud."

Exercise classes are among the initiatives run to combat loneliness.

Retirement development joins campaign aimed at combatting loneliness

TO coincide with Loneliness Awareness Week (June 17 to 21) a national housing and care provider with a property in Skemersdale is running a campaign to help more older people combat loneliness.

The award-winning Thanet retirement housing development situtated just off Halfmile Island and near to Tawd Valley Park, is one of Anchor Hanover's estates giving residents and their relatives help to combat loneliness in the area.

According to research from Age UK, the number of over-50s experiencing loneliness is expected to grow and is set to reach two million people by 2025/6. This rise is expected to have an increased impact on health and wellbeing services.

Initiatives at Thanet include running events to engage older people in the community who may not have the same support and services in place that can be found in a social housing environment.

Nick Sedgwick, Anchor Hanover's director of service development, said: "Nobody should feel alone and believe they have no one to turn to. We want older people to live in strong vibrant communities, which is why we are always encouraging our residents to be good neighbours and to take part in activities that make them feel connected with those around them.

"While the breadth and type of activities we host may vary, the underlying aim for us is to build a positive and welcoming atmosphere. We also value engagement from everyone in the local community, so it's great that we're able to accommodate different groups who want to take part in events we organise and who host a range of activities of their own."

Back to school . . . dads and grandads prepare to tuck in at the special Father's Day breakfast event at Crawford Village Primary.

Primary school stages special breakfast to mark Father's Day

STAFF at a village school opened its doors extra early to hold a special breakfast event to celebrate Father's Day last week.

The aim of the day at Crawford Village Primary was for pupils' dads and grandads to spend some quality time together with their children, sharing breakfast in the school environment.

Members of the PTA at the school in Crawford Road, Up Holland served up a mouthwatering selection of bacon butties and sausage or vegetarian barm cakes, along with a plentiful supply of toast and all washed down with tea, coffee and fruit juice.

Headteacher, Debra Eaton, said: "It was fantastic to see so many of our wonderful dads and grandads coming into school for the Father's Day Breakfast - it was such a lovely atmosphere.

"The partnership we have with parents is valued greatly, and the Father's Day Breakfast was a simple way for us to demonstrate this to the community."

295 in borough have used Help to Buy scheme

NEW figures released by the Homes and Communities Agency (HCA) reveal that a total of 295 people in West Lancashire have used the Help to Buy scheme since it was launched four years ago, including 243 first-time buyers.

Help to Buy allows any home buyer to secure a brand new home under the value of £600,000 with just a five per cent deposit. The Government lends the buyer 20 per cent of the value of the property in the form of an interest-free equity loan for five years, meaning that buyers then gain access to some of the great mortgage rates currently available with just a 75 per cent mortgage.

Golf club seeks help of university ecology experts to enhance wildlife on courses

Project is aimed at encouraging players to take active interest in protecting environment

HURLSTON Hall Golf Club has sought to enhance the wildlife on its courses by enlisting the help of ecologists from Edge Hill University.

Dr Sven Bakte and Thom Dallimore from the university have begun carrying out a preliminary investigation of the site's flora and fauna.

The ultimate aim is for the ecologists to make recommendations for land management practices which will protect and encourage further species diversity, without compromising the current golfing activities on site.

Future studies could review the effectiveness of these recommendations and good practices and the results could be shared within the golf club community..

Opportunity

Hurlston Hall Golf Club covers 160 acres, large areas of which are out of play and thus provide an ideal space for a variety of wildlife. Habitats include grassland, woodland, ponds and two brooks

Edge Hill University offers a number of popular BSc (Hons) degree programmes in ecology and conservation, plant science and biology and a MSc programme in conservation management.

The golf club hopes that its collaboration with Edge Hill will support its efforts to enhance the biodiversity on site and give students and university staff the opportunity to develop their practical skills in field biology.

Dr Sven Bakte (right) and Thom Dallimore carrying out a biodiversity survey at Hurlston Hall Golf Club.

The club says, however, that the new collaboration will not in any way be compromising the quality of the golf course but will support ongoing efforts to enhance the biodiversity value in areas that are not used.

Club member and project co-ordinator, Leigh McEvoy, said: "A richer habitat beyond the fairways is pleasing on the eye and the wildlife in it adds to the pleasure of a round of golf.

"It is hoped that this project will encourage even more players to take an active interest in the environment and its protection and we invite interested people to get involved."

Hope Island in Skelmersdale - West Lancs Council has promised to 'revive' it with floral tributes to local cancer sufferers.

Council promising fresh look for key borough gateways

WEST Lancashire Borough Council has unveiled plans to improve the appearance of two key gateways to the borough.

As part of the public realm works the council undertakes on behalf of Lancashire County Council, a number of gateway roundabouts are maintained, in addition to maintaining the grass and controlling weed growth. This year it plans to improve two key locations.

The roundabout next to Ormskirk Fire Station will be planted up with seasonal bedding plants around the existing shrubbery to provide a vibrant, colourful welcome to the town.

And later in the year, following generous contributions from local residents, Hope Island in Skelmersdale will be planted with daffodil bulbs to help revive the roundabout in tribute to local cancer sufferers.

Councillor Kev Wilkie, West Lancs Council cabinet member for street scene, said: "The council is ambitious for West Lancashire to have a good quality environment.

"We are really pleased to be working with Lancashire County Council and local residents to bring about these improvements in key locations across the borough that really matter to local residents."

Church launches monthly midweek service and community lunch

HOLY Trinity Church Bickerstaffe is now holding a midweek service and lunch in the community once a month aimed at those who have difficulty attending church on a Sunday and at helping to combat loneliness in the community.

The shortened Common Worship Holy Communion service, followed by a soup and sandwich lunch, will take place at 11am on the first Wednesday of the month at Four Lane Ends Mission, Skelmersdale Road, Bickerstaffe.

A £2 donation is suggested.

Churchwarden Edward McCarthy said: "This new service is open to everyone and is a great opportunity for fellowship. Our special service with lunch means sharing good food and good company in a relaxed environment, which encourages people to get to know each other.

"A break from work and the usual weekly routine gives a chance to form new friendships and boost morale too. The aim is to reduce loneliness, foster goodwill and build stronger relationships."

I wasn't born a grumpy old man but I just might be growing into the role

SOMETIMES these days I think I must have been born a grumpy old man, then I remember my late brother George, who was!

However, the fact remains that as a teenager and young adult I don't suppose I was ever a member of the 'swinging' scene, I was too busy trying to be truly grown-up.

But what, you may say, about the drugs and sex and rock 'n' roll? Well, in the sex department I suppose I did rather well. As for the rock 'n' roll, well I can still manage to sing one or two of the songs, including some from the late 1950s, and hum along to the tunes of many others, even if the words could sometimes be just a wee bit daft.

It's just a pity though that I am not now eligible as prospective leader of the Conservative Party since I can honestly say - hand on heart - that I have never in my life tried 'recreational' drugs, not even 'pot'!

And more than that, particularly since for the first half of my adult life I spent much of my leisure time in pubs up and down the country, I can honestly say - again, hand on heart - I have never, ever been approached by anyone trying to sell me drugs of any sort.

So there I am, clean as the proverbial. And sober now as well, though I still feel somewhat proud when I remember the manageress of one establishment who once told me: "One of the things I like about you is that no matter how much you drink, you always remain a gentleman".

Had our son not died as a baby, I reckon too that I would, perforce, have kept up far better with modern idioms and fancies. Or, indeed, had I remained in my job with British Telecom I would most certainly not now be computer illiterate.

Mind you, since I was an early convert to credit and debit cards (though boringly I pay my bills each month) I think it is probably deliberate awkwardness on my part which prompts me to use cash for everyday items. And, I think, as a plus this gives you a far better idea of how much you actually are spending in the supermarket too. I have this idea that I would like to be the last person in the country to pay real cash for something in a shop.

But try as I might, I cannot help feeling envious of those (often, but not always young people) folk at a bus stop who whiz out their tablets to tell me that the bus was five minutes late at its last stop. Try as I might to convince myself that it's fun not knowing, I know it isn't. It is an interesting fact though that so long as you do not tell someone that you are more or less totally ignorant of the workings of these modern gadgets, they think you are quite normal and so you can get along with your old bus timetable, listen to weather forecasts on the radio, and pay for your cocoa and milk with real money without anyone bothering you at all.

Once you have admitted that you have little idea how even to switch one of these gadgets on, people seem to think either that you have gone mad or that you are deliberately being awkward.

And perhaps I am at that, but I'll tell you this, things are far more simple in Jim's little old-fashioned world. And when I am all alone with dogs Tina and Cinders on our boat in Norfolk it is possible to get by, meeting and talking to strangers, without anything having to intrude in my own 1960s world.

Believe me, it is a far simpler world with far fewer petty restrictions and probably a lot more spontaneity than in the present climate of things being 'unacceptable' and care taken before you utter any word.

But then, I suppose I must have just about caught up with my actual age, so perhaps the best thing is to slip into my role as a slightly cantankerous but hopefully grumpy, yet loveable old man.

County council pledge to encourage more recruits from forces

LANCASHIRE County Council is pledging to improve its recruitment from the armed forces community and encourage the use of their experience to meet skills gaps.

At the meeting of the authority's cabinet on Thursday, June 13, approval was given to prepare an application to the Ministry of Defence's 2020 Employer Recognition Scheme Gold Award.

As part of this work, the council will consider improving its recruitment policy to encourage more people from the armed forces community to apply for jobs with the authority.

It would also look at how the skills and experience within the armed forces community could help to meet the future needs of employers in the county.

Council leader, County Councillor Geoff Driver, said: "We're proud of our ongoing work to support Lancashire's armed forces community, which includes people currently in service, veterans and their families. We want to strengthen those links even more.

"We've already introduced a number of policies to honour our Armed Forces Covenant commitment, which we signed with other organisations in 2013. This includes our nationally-recognised Mentoring in Schools Programme, which involves veterans working in secondary schools to encourage and mentor young people. We want to go even further with our support.

"The 75th anniversary of D-Day recently reminds us of the sacrifices made by our armed forces as they serve our country, and that we should assist and support them."

To receive the 2020 Employer Recognition Scheme Gold Award, the county council will need to demonstrate armed forces-friendly recruitment processes, raise awareness of issues affecting the armed forces community with their own staff, and encourage support from other organisations.

Edge Hill in Guardian Guide top 50

EDGE Hill has been placed in the top 50 UK universities in the Guardian University Guide 2020.

The Ormskirk university moves up seven places to 48th in the guide and is one of only four in the North West featured in the top 50 alongside Manchester (40), Liverpool Hope (43) and Liverpool (50).

Aimed at students trying to choose a university, the Guardian Guide rankings are based on factors including the standard of teaching, whether current students like the university and their subject, and their chances of getting a job.

Vice-chancellor, Dr John Cater, said: "I'm delighted by this deserved recognition. "We continue to work hard to make Edge Hill the university of choice for students, offering them high quality teaching, an outstanding student experience and, ultimately, equipping them with the skills they need for a successful career.

"We believe that no other university can match the consistent improvement we've shown and continue to show."

Dr John Cater.

Here's a simple solution to the railway bridge problem

RE: The plan for the Derby Street railway bridge (Champion, June 12) I would like to respond in the letters section as follows:

The answer to this is reasonably simple.

First: Enforce the 18-ton limit on the bridge. The restriction is currently completely ignored!

Installation of a camera with a £60 fine would reap huge financial rewards. Between the hours of 07.30 and 19.30 every weekday, that bridge must be crossed by almost 100 articulated 38-ton trucks.

You do the maths - it's a gold mine!

Second: Install a footbridge on the station direct from the current platform to either the disused platform or onto Railway Approach.

That would take a huge amount of pedestrian traffic off the dangerous narrow pavement on the bridge.

The fines generated by the enforcement of the weight limit would fund the footbridge and go some way to paying for the bridge repairs!

Anyone care to tell me why this isn't feasible?

David Johnson, Aughton.

We deserve better than being the 'third-rate poor relations'

RE: 'Bridge Plan Will Cause Traffic Chaos' (Champion, June 12) I fear we are the poor relations in Lancashire.

Bravo, Councillor Hennessy for saying that third rate is not good enough here. We have become accustomed to a totally inadequate road network, but with traffic turning in and out of the station and lots and lots of pedestrians to keep safe, single-lane traffic will cause chaos and back-up the whole system making it even worse.

Councillor Iddon says that the traffic lights at the Five Ways will be altered AGAIN! and in the town itself, and that they are going to try to keep HGVs out of Ormskirk and keep traffic flowing on surrounding roads.

Which roads? Perhaps he is thinking of sending more traffic through Newburgh/Burscough/Square Lane/A59/Scarisbrick?

If we are serious about encouraging use of public transport we must insist on safe pedestrian routes from our railway station to the town centre and the idea that Ormskirk should reduce capacity on its roads is baffling.

We deserve better.

T. R., by email.

Local politicians need to look at all sides of an issue instead of always seeking to play the 'blame game'

I WAS incensed but not surprised, by the comments made by Councillor Hennessy on last week's front page.

She alleges Lancashire's administration are seeking 'to do work on the cheap' to the Derby Street railway bridge, rather than build a new bridge.

Political allegiances aside, in my view, local councillors all too often engage in the political blame game, rather than looking at issues from an informed, impartial and pragmatic viewpoint.

As Councillor Hennessy should be aware the existing structure is under a conservation order and any solution to this structure will be a compromise. Any remedial or reconstruction work to this structure will inevitably require traffic diversions and delays whilst this work is carried out.

The key to any construction of this nature, in a busy urban location, is to minimise disruption to the public whilst maintaining safety and building an economic and viable solution.

The administration have a duty to ensure public funds are spent wisely. I do not always agree with the way in which public money is raised and spent, however in this instance, I agree with the county council's cabinet member for highways who appears to be taking a sensible and logical approach to this issue by considering options before reaching a conclusion.

It saddens me that local governance, all too often, stoops to the level of political oneupmanship, rather than looking at the interests of the community. It is for this reason that many people have turned their back on the main political parties and voted for alternative candidates in local elections.

Phil Girling, Bickerstaffe.

So grateful for our lovely park

I WOULD just like to express my gratitude for our Ormskirk park.

Thanks to West Lancs Council and volunteers for all their dedication, skills and work keeping it lovely as it is.

One morning while enjoying walking through the colourful wildlife and wild flower meadow, the council workers were litter-picking and emptying the waste bins.

Although this might seem a thankless task it is much appreciated, making our park tidy and clean once again for more of the local community and visitors alike to enjoy.

Thank-you to everyone involved.

Ms J. Jones, Ormskirk.

Even Beethoven was considered 'too radical' in his day, Jim!

IN reply to Jim Sharpe's column about so-called modern 'classic music' (Champion, June 12) can I say that people thought many of the great classical composers were too radical in their days (e.g. Beethoven).

We need radio stations to play music that will encourage a new generation of classical music lovers otherwise we'll lose our amazing orchestras in the UK.

He also needs to get his facts right. There is only one piece of film music in the top 30 Classic FM Hall of Fame and that is the music to Schindler's List by John Williams!

Einaudi's highest entry is 117!

Julia Maxted, Aughton.

Over-75s worried about TV licence can easily check if they're entitled to Pension Credit

I AM writing with regard to pensioners who are not on Pension Credit and are afraid they will have to pay for their TV Licence if they are over 75 from next year.

Do you know that there are 1.3 million people eligible for pension credit but they do not claim it?

All you have to do is contact the local branch of Age Concern and ask them to send you an assessment form, then fill it in and send it back to them.

They will then be able to tell you if you are eligible for the extra £30 to £40 a week.

Name supplied, by email.

Still time to have your say about council services

THERE is still time for residents of West Lancs to give their views on the borough council and the services it provides via the authority's 2019 Citizens Survey.

A number of important themes are covered in the survey including community safety and satisfaction levels with council services. People can also give their feedback on what it is like to live in the borough.

Many residents have already had their say but there is still time to take part as the survey is open until Monday, July 8.

A number of residents have been sent a letter inviting them to complete the survey and give their opinions which can help influence decisions taken by the council. However, anyone living in the borough can take part by completing the survey online at www.westlancs.gov.uk/cssurvey.

Council leader, Councillor Ian Moran, said: "The Citizens Survey is an important opportunity for people living in West Lancashire to give their views on the important issues raised. We are very grateful to those who have already completed the survey and hope that many more will take this opportunity to have their say on borough council services."

Councillor Ian Moran.

...and to pay for garden waste collection!

MEANWHILE the council is also reminding residents that the new subscription year for aurthority's chargeable Garden Waste Collection Service began on Monday, June 3.

Both previous users and new customers can sign up and pay the 2019/2020 subscription online at www.westlancs.gov.uk/gardenwaste.

The cost of the service remains the same this subscription year, which runs until May 31 2020, and further information including prices for additional bins is available online.

Residents who have a brown bin and sign up are asked to put their house number in the white square on the front of the bin so it can be identified and their subscription validated by collection staff using the data on board the vehicle.

Councillor Kev Wilkie, the council's cabinet member for street scene, said: "Many of us will be busy in the garden over the coming months and as well as enjoying the benefits of the service, residents who sign up and pay can also help minimise the amount of waste going to landfill and contribute towards protecting the environment."

Residents who are unable to sign up online with a payment card could ask a family member to help or they can contact Customer Services to seek further advice and assistance on how to make a payment.

Those residents who decide not to use the service will still be able to dispose their garden waste at the borough's household waste recycling centres or compost it.

Taxi driver performs baptism service for customer's daughter!

Report by Kenny Parker

A TAXI driver with an Ormskirk firm performed an infant baptism for a customer after she found out at late notice that a previously-arranged church service had been double-booked.

Natalie Duong booked a baptism service at St George's RC Church, Maghull for her three-year-old daughter Ava around February time and an after-service party at St George's Parish Centre.

But just weeks before the event she learned that because of a 'miscommunication' the baptism service would not be going ahead as planned after all.

Having already paid for the venue and buffet she decided just to have a birthday party for Ava instead - until she got into a Ormskirk Blueline cab and got talking to driver Chris Toop about what had happened who in turn told fellow Blueline driver Paul Newbery.

Chris and Paul, who are both gay priests ordained by the Merseysyide Open Community Church, agreed to carry out the baptism service themselves at St George's Parish Centre.

Natalie, from Maghull, said: "Due to a miscommunication the church had a double booking. They suggested I have the baptism in August but it was all planned. I had sent out all the invitations and the venue and food were booked and all paid off,

Paul Newbery conducting the baptism service.

"When I told Chris what had happened with my daughter's christening he said he would speak to Paul and they sorted it all within a couple of weeks."

Paul said: "We were more than happy to perform this service. I carried out the service, my first baptism since becoming ordained with the support of Chris. It was a lovely afternoon, it was really quite nice."

Paul's background is with the Catholic church but he says he couldn't be ordained to serve with the Catholic church because of his sexuality, However, he believes that will change.

He said: "The Pope is having discussions about homosexuality and what is really exciting is that people like Chris and myself, who are spreading the word under the Catholic tradition, are going to be the people that eventually will be invited to the mainstream church because they will welcome everybody, which I hate to say is how it should be.

"We do rely on contributions and donations to help go out and do more. Which is why we work part-time. We are not mainstream church priests and we are not paid a salary."

Heritage group appeal to shoppers in bid to bag community scheme funds

Report by Henry James

Happy visitors enjoying an earlier Burscough Heritage Weekend.

OFFICIALS of a local heritage group are appealing to shoppers to help them bag a four-figure cash boost in a supermarket community funding scheme.

The Burscough Heritage group is one of three contenders shortlisted in the latest round of awards in the Tesco Bags of Help initiative.

Tesco teamed up with Groundwork to launch the scheme which sees grants of £4,000, £2,000 and £1,000 awarded to local community projects every two months.

Three groups in every Tesco region are shortlisted to receive the cash with shoppers invited to vote for their favoured project by using a token given to them at the check-out each time.

The three cash amounts are then awarded based on the number of votes each project receives.

Voting at the Burscough Bridge Tesco is open until the end of June.

Meanwhile the countdown is now on to this year's ninth Burscough Heritage Weekend on Saturday and Sunday, June 22 and 23. Based around Burscough Wharf, the event has grown to become one of the biggest free events in the area's year.

And the Burscough Heritage Group, who organise the weekend, are already starting to look forward to next year and say scooping the top award in the Tesco scheme would go a long way to helping to make the 10th event the biggest and best yet.

Group chairman, Tom Spencer, said: "While we have great continuing support from the owners of the Wharf, Burscough Parish Council and this year from builders Redrow, it would be smashing to have a bit more money in the pot to make Burscough Heritage weekend 2020 even bigger and better - so we are asking all local Tesco shoppers to put their tokens in our slot!"

Tesco's Bags of Help project has already provided more than £75m to more than 25,000 projects across Britain. Tesco customers get the chance to vote for three different groups every time they shop. Every other month, when votes are collected, three groups in each of Tesco's regions will be awarded funding.

For more information about this and next year's Burscough Heritage weekend ring Colin on 07931 356204 or search for the Burscough Heritage group on Facebook.

Alec Brown, head of community at Tesco, said: "Bags of Help contributes funds to community projects up and down the country and we've been overwhelmed by the response from customers voting in their local stores. We're looking forward to seeing more projects brought to life."

Funding is available to community groups and charities looking to fund local projects that bring benefits to communities. Anyone can nominate a project and organizations can apply online. To find out more visit www.tesco.com/bagsofhelp.

Most searched for people on Wikipedia linked to West Lancs revealed

Report by Henry James

A MAP has been revealed which shows the most searched for people on online encyclopaedia Wikipedia from towns and villages in West Lancashire, with former footballers and actors figuring prominently.

The people featured have to have been born, lived in or been connected to a place, with data collected from 2015 to May 2019 from English Wikipedia.

Perhaps surprisingly, using the criteria, the most searched for person connected with Ormskirk is former Liverpool defender Stephen Warnock.

While for neighbouring Skelmersdale another ex-footballer, former Everton midfielder Leon Osman, tops the poll.

TV and theatre actor, director and producer Andrew Lancel, probably best known for his role in the long-running television police drama The Bill, is listed as most searched for person connected with Rufford.

And actress Eva Pope, who played headmistress Rachel Mason in BBC school saga Waterloo Road and also appeared in Coronation Street, is the most searched for person with connections to Appley Bridge.

Young musical talent shines brightly at Battle of Bands finale

Report by Kenny Parker

The 7-12 age group winners Mythical Rhythm with the judges.

A PACKED audience at Edge Hill University's Rose Theatre were entertained by a host of talented young musicians at the second Sound Affects 'Battle of the Bands' event.

Solo acts, duos, and bands aged between seven and 17 competed in two age categories (7-12 and 13-17) for a top prize of a full day recording in Sound Affects professional recording studio in Ormskirk.

The contest was fought over two rounds, with the audience voting for two acts in each age category to go forward to the final, where they performed before a panel of four music industry judges.

In the final for the younger age category were five-piece band Mythical Rhythm from Burscough, Maghull and Ormskirk, pitted against nine-year-old soloist Amelia Kate from Skelmersdale.

Rosa Weiner, Event co-ordinator, Rosa Weiner said: "Mythical Rhythm first performed the Cranberries' classic Zombie to win over the audience vote and stepped it up with their own original song for the final battle.

"Meanwhile, solo singer Amelia went for Katy Perry's powerful Roar for her first song and pulled on the judges heartstrings for her second song, a rendition of Alexandra Burke's Hallelujah.

"Although both performances were outstanding, it was Mythical Rhythm who triumphed."

But although she missed out on first prize, Amelia won an award for Best Perfomance.

In the older age category finalists were Erin Leah, 14, from Ormskirk, and Painted Head, aged 14 to 16 and from Burscough and Parbold.

Rosa said: "Erin Leah went for Queen favourite Somebody to Love for her first choice and decided to showcase her pop star diva for second song, recent release What About Us by P!nk.

"Painted Head went for two original songs for both performances which went down well with the judges.

"Again, it was an exceptionally close call, but Painted Head took the top prize for the older age category."

Erin did not leave empty-handed though as she picked up Best Diva award.

Other awards on the night were: Best Rockstar - Tom Bartholomew. Star of the Show - Alex Carruthers. Best Stage Presence - Debaser. Best Cover Song - Mythical Rhtyhm. Best Original Song - Painted Head.

Also at the event, Sound Affects Studios raised £2,000 by auctioning off an Orange Bass and Roland keyboard to raise money for their new chosen charity The Children's Air Ambulance Service.

OLD BED RECYCLING SERVICE

Degree will be a 'must' for new police recruits

LANCASHIRE Constabulary has announced its move to the national Police Education Qualifications Framework (PEQF) for future recruitment of officers, alongside its partnership with the University of Central Lancashire (UCLan) to deliver the training.

The force will recruit its first cohort of officers to start training as apprentices on the Police Constable Degree Apprenticeship (PCDA) and the Degree Holder Entry Programme (DHEP) from this summer.

From 2020, national entry requirements will change and all new officers will need a degree-level qualification on entry or to achieve one through an apprenticeship route with the constabulary.

The change to entry criteria, the first in over a decade, has been implemented to further "formalise policing as a career and reflect and acknowledge the high level of service required from an officer in today's complex and challenging policing environment."

The three new national routes of entry to become a serving police officer are:

1. Police Constable Degree Apprenticeship (PCDA). A three-year professional policing degree apprenticeship, providing an opportunity for successful applicants to achieve a degree in Professional Policing Practice with the University of Central Lancashire (UCLan) following appointment as a police officer.

2. Degree Holder Entry Programme (DHEP). A two-year academic professional policing diploma, providing the opportunity for successful applicants with any degree (except in Professional Policing) to achieve a diploma in Professional Policing Practice with UCLan following appointment as a police officers.

3. Pre-Join Degree Route. For candidates who hold a degree in Professional Policing. From 2019 a number of Higher Education Institutions (including UCLan) are offering degrees in Professional Policing. After being awarded the degree any graduate could apply to join Lancashire Constabulary as an officer and be trained in operational duties.

Funding for the PCDA and DHEP routes is provided but any students undertaking the Pre-Join Degree would fund it themselves.

Chief Constable, Andy Rhodes said: "We are pleased to announce our partnership with the UCLan to deliver our PCDA and DHEP programmes. These are challenging times for policing and the new process acknowledges the ever-increasing complexities in crime today."

Rachel Cragg, Pro Vice-Chancellor (academic development) at the University of Central Lancashire, added: "We are proud to be partnering with Lancashire Constabulary to deliver degree apprenticeships as part of the Police Education Qualifications Framework (PEQF). We look forward to welcoming learners who are seeking a policing career in Lancashire."

Work has started on new slip roads at Junction1 of the M58.

M58 improvement scheme underway

WORK has started on a multi-million pound M58 improvement scheme.

The project involves the construction of the 'missing' slip roads at Junction 1 of the busy motorway, providing a northbound off-slip and a southbound on-slip.

As well as improving journey times between, it is hoped the scheme will reduce traffic on the A59 and some residential roads and facilitate potential future development in the area.

Sefton Council received an offer of funding from the Liverpool City Region Local Growth Fund for £5.5m toward the scheme in 2016 which was formally approved a year later.

John Sisk and Sons were appointed to complete the design and construction of the scheme with Atkins Ltd as their design partner.

Works began last month with the construction of the site compound and an access track for nearby Guest Farm.

Once this is completed, work will start on the section of Giddygate Lane parallel to the motorway and the project will then focus on the earthworks associated with the slip roads.

Sisk managing director for UK Civils, Paul Brown, said: "We are committed to delivering this project to a high standard and on time, and will be working with the local communities and stakeholders to ensure we leave a positive legacy."

If the scheme goes to programme, then the new slip roads should be open and operational by spring 2020.

Bruce Parker, North West head of planning and development at Highways England, said: "The M58 provides a vital motorway link from Merseyside to connect businesses, families and friends across the north of England and beyond.

"We're pleased that work has now started on the new slip roads at Junction 1, which will help to improve the flow of traffic and provide quicker and more reliable journeys for drivers."

Youngsters invited to take up summer reading challenge

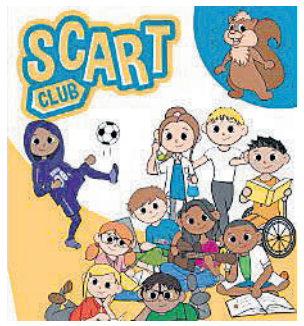
YOUNGSTERS in West Lancashire are being encouraged to keep reading and learning over the summer by signing up to the SCART Club.

Organised by Lancashire County Council the club (SCART stands for Science, Culture, Active, Reading and Technology) is aimed at youngsters aged five to 12 and is free to take part in.

Launching on Saturday, June 29 and running until Saturday, September 28, it aims to keep children reading throughout the summer holidays.

To join in children just need to visit a library and complete two tasks from each of the five SCART themes. One task for every theme is reading a book of their choice.

On joining the SCART Club children will receive a task booklet. Stickers are collected for each task that is completed. When all five themes are completed a prize will be received.



County Councillor Peter Buckley, Lancashire County Council's cabinet member for community and cultural services, said: "Encouraging reading is a very important part of the initiative, but the tasks are varied. It is also an effective way to boost children's literacy, which not only helps with their education but also improves their life chances in the future. Importantly, the children love it because it is fun.

Those taking part in the SCART Club can make use of one free family entry to a Lancashire museum.

Meanwhile young people aged 12 to 24 also have the opportunity to volunteer as a 'Reading Hack' at their local library, as part of the Lancashire Reading Journey. This role is to support children on the journey, and help with organising and running events. To volunteer, visit bit.ly/readhack

For more information about the SCART Club, visit www.lancashire.gov.uk/libraries-and-archives/libraries/reading-journey.aspx, visit your local library or telephone 0300 123 6703.

Finley is Miss Liverpool City Region

TWENTY-year-old Finley Unsworth from Aughton has been crowned Miss Liverpool City Region.

Organisers say the contest, which is part of Miss England and Miss World competitions, is about more than just turning up in a swimsuit and looking pretty.

Contestants were asked to raise funds and awareness for charity Beauty with a Purpose, which participates in humanitarian projects across the world; compete in an evening wear round; take part in a creative ECO fashion round; and support their fellow contestants.

The win qualifies Finley to take part in Miss England later in the year and a chance to go on to represent the country in the Miss World competition.

Breathe Easy Group learn about benefits of new support service

PETRA McCauley from the British Lung Foundation (BLF) was guest speaker at the latest meeting of the West Lancashire and Southport Breathe Easy group.

The meeting started with a half-hour sing-song, led by the Power of Music group. This activity is proving popular with the members and is strongly recommended for improving lung conditions and lifting the spirits.

Petra then spoke about the foundation's new initiative, Active Steps, a free service providing support for more than 12 months to help someone become and stay active, funded by Sport England and the National Lottery.

Pat Ireland from West Lancashire and Southport Breathe Easy group said: "Being active has lots of benefits for people living with lung conditions or a long-term condition, such as type 2 diabetes and arthritis.

"Most people with a lung condition do far less activity compared to the general population. People's activity levels decline after they're diagnosed with lung disease, and they continue to fall. However, individual support can overcome them and Active Steps is a one-to-one service to support any inactive people with a lung condition to become and stay active over 12 months.

"It includes regular calls to discuss how you can become more active and how BLF can help you together; an information pack including an activity diary, so you can track your activities and your progress; regular newsletters with useful tips and inspirational stories of other people with lung conditions who have benefited from being active; information about ways to become active in your local area, and access to other members of our helpline team to support your wider needs, such as access to financial benefits. Altogether an excellent and attractive package."

Petra McCauley addressing the West Lancashire and Southport Breathe Easy Group.

BLF offers this service to anybody with a lung condition who would like support to become more active. People who have been diagnosed with a lung condition and are not currently active enough can refer themselves directly to the service. The Active Steps team will give them a call to explain the service in more detail and check that it's appropriate for them.

You can sign up online at activesteps@blf.org.uk or call BLF helpline on 03000 030 555 to speak to the Active Steps team.

Please note that the support offered is not intended to replace advice from a GP, consultant, nurse or other health care professional.

West Lancs and Southport Breathe Easy Group welcome speakers on a variety of subjects and new members and guests are welcome together with any relative, carer or friend. The group meet on the third Monday of every month between 11am and 12.30pm at the Guide HQ, Green Lane, Ormskirk, next to Ormskirk Rugby Club. Ample free parking is available nearby. For further information, contact Trish on 07528702203.

Health commissioners invite public to have a say on proposed changes to clinical policies

Report by Henry James

NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) has announced seven clinical policies which are now available for patient and public engagement and feedback as part of a region-wide review.

In partnership with the other seven CCGs in Lancashire and South Cumbria, it has been agreed that there is a need to review clinical policies in order to ensure a consistent and fair approach; update current policies in accordance with National Guidelines and best clinical practice and to make sure limited resources are being used to maximum effect.

The seven policies are those for the following:

- The surgical treatment of Carpel Tunnel Syndrome.
- Tonsillectomy/Adeno-Tonsillectomy.
- The surgical release of Trigger Finger.
- Management of Otitis Media with Effusion (OME) using grommets (the treatment of glue ear in children).
- Breast reduction surgery - separated from the existing cosmetics policy.
- The surgical management of Gynaecomastia (enlarged male breasts) – separated from the existing cosmetics policy.
- Removal of Benign Skin Lesions - separated from the existing cosmetics policy.

Residents of West Lancashire are invited to read this new and revised policy and provide feedback and comments by completing the relevant survey. This can all be accessed by visiting the Healthier Lancashire and South Cumbria website: bit.ly/WLCCGpolicy

Note that comments should be submitted by Monday, July 1.

A spokesperson for NHS West Lancashire CCG, said: "The CCG is responsible for commissioning a wide range of clinical services, including GP services, hospital services, community, mental health and learning disability services, for and on behalf of, the local population of which we serve.

Important

"We need to ensure this is done in an open, fair and transparent manner but in so doing we must consider the limited resources we have.

"A key role for the CCG is to develop clinical policies that help us make decisions about the use of those limited resources.

"The policies that we are currently consulting on may have an impact on many of our residents, it is therefore vitally important that our population have their say on what we are proposing."

Council probe into dog breeder cruelty claims

Report by Danielle Thompson

Pets rescue centre staff tell of 'underweight' dogs left with 'horrific infected skin', 'horrible ear infections' and 'tacked open' eyes

WEST Lancashire Borough Council are investigating whether a shar pei breeder, who was slammed by an animal rescue charity for the 'absolutely shocking state' of her dogs, has moved to Ormskirk and started selling dogs again.

Wonky Pets Rescue Centre staff claim the breeder, Sarah Neil, who was then living in Southport, took 15 shar peis to their sanctuary in Birmingham, but all were suffering a variety of conditions including one dog with a missing eye, and others with various skin conditions or underweight.

The centre shared a post on social media with photographs of some of the animals, including one male shar pei which had to be put to sleep, who had renal failure.

On the Pedigree Database website, Neil had been trading under the breeder name 'Yuanpei' and her addresses were previously listed as Manchester Road and Windsor Road, both in Southport.

Now, a new listing has appeared on the Our Dogs website's Breeder Directory, listing Sarah Neil/Yuanpei's address as Ormskirk.

The same Champion reader is believed to have flagged up concerns to West Lancs Borough Council, Sefton Council and the RSPCA.

A spokesperson for West Lancashire Borough Council said: "This operation is not licensed by West Lancashire Borough Council. Officers will therefore investigate this matter and will take appropriate action if there is evidence of any unlicensed activities and/or animal welfare concerns."

A spokesman for Sefton Council said: "After being contacted, our Licensing Team checked a Southport address but found this lady no longer lives there. If this lady is continuing to breed/sell dogs she will need a licence from the local authority.

This dog, known as Ivan, had to be put to sleep.

"We take the welfare of all animals very seriously and will investigate any complaint and take any appropriate action. To report any animal welfare concerns please call Consumer Direct on 03454 040506."

Staff at Wonky Pets Rescue Centre described Neil as 'one of the most prolific shar pei breeders in the UK' and revealed that the charity's vet bill to treat six of the dogs she took to them totalled £3,500, whilst the rest of the dogs also needed neutering, vaccinating and most needed micro-chipping.

They said: "Many people have been coming forward with information and concerns about their own dogs and experiences with this breeder, Yuanpei Shar Peis. We rescue a lot of pets but this is beyond anything we have ever come across.

"After being alerted to dogs being sold on free-ads for as little as £50 we were then contacted by the breeder and asked to take the dogs that were left, most of them in an absolutely shocking state!

"We also know that she has already sold some others on and given a number of dogs and two litters of puppies to a relation to sell. Many of the dogs dropped off with us had horrific infected skin, were underweight and had horrible ear infections, but the most shocking of all were their eyes. Some even had their eyes 'tacked open' which we don't believe were done by a vet.

"Anyone involved with shar pei and who is aware of the Yuanpei affix will have heard of Ivan, the top blue stud dog that she so proudly boasted had fathered so many litters. According to the Kennel Club register, 74 litters have been sired by Ivan- and that's just the ones she bothered registering - and with a stud fee of £1,000 a time we will leave you to do the maths.

"That's on top of the sale of the hundreds and hundreds of puppies that have been churned out like a conveyor belt over the years. Poor Ivan who made her so much money had to be put to sleep after going into acute renal failure."

On the Pedigree Database Sarah Neil is described as a Kennel Cub Affiliate and a member of the Kennel Club Dog Owners Group. But a spokesperson for the Kennel Club said: "She is definitely not a Kennel Club Assured Breeder. The Kennel Club Dog Owners Group is not a legitimate group or scheme run or owned by the Kennel Club."

The Champion has tried to contact Sarah Neil but without success.

An RSPCA spokesperson said: "We would always urge anyone with information about allegations like these to call our 24-hour cruelty line on 0300 1234 999."

Rufford Arms Hotel on market for £1.2m

A WEST Lancs hotel has been put up for sale with an asking priced of more than £1million.

The three-star Rufford Arms Hotel, situated on the outskirts of the village in Liverpool Road, boasts 15 bedrooms, an adjoining 100 seat restaurant, Alexander's Brasserie, and three bedroom private accommodation on the first floor.

London-based estate agents Christies & Co are handling the sale with an asking price of £1.2m.

The hotel's current owner, Susan Lockwood, who is retiring after 27 years of operating the business, says: "I have thoroughly enjoyed running the Rufford Arms but the time has come to find a new owner for this wonderful hotel, so that I can enjoy my retirement."

Alistair Greenhalgh, director at Christie & Co, said: "The business currently benefits from diversified revenue streams as Alexander's Brasserie is open to non-residents and thus attracts custom from local diners in addition to hotel guests.

"With its strong trading history, excellent reputation, and high standard of accommodation we expect this opportunity to garner significant interest from the market."

Society busy rehearsing for its summer concert

FOLLOWING a very successful production of HMS Pinafore and Trial by Jury at the Little Theatre, Southport, Crosby Gilbert and Sullivan Society is busy rehearsing its summer concert.

This will be a full concert version of Iolanthe, to be performed this Saturday, (June 22) at 7.30pm at St. Faith's Church, Crosby.

Gilbert and Sullivan aficionados will be familiar with the story of Iolanthe, the fairy banished from the fairy kingdom because she married a mortal.

Iolanthe is one of the most popular of Gilbert and Sullivan operas, well-known for its "delightful" music, in particular the famous Peers' chorus.

Tickets are available from Margaret on 07870319686.

Hear Proms favourites at society's next concert

THE orchestra and choir of the Ormskirk Music Society present their summer concert on Saturday, June 29 at St. John's Church, Burscough.

The programme will include the traditional Last Night of the Proms favourites: Henry Wood's Fantasia on British Sea Songs, Hubert Parry's Jerusalem, Edward Elgar's audience-rousing Pomp and Circumstance March no 1, and of course Thomas Arne's Rule Britannia.

Opening with the cheerily upbeat Farnham Festival Overture, the programme will go on to explore some of the music inspired by the English Folk tradition.

Holst's Songs of the West was the composer's first work drawn from this tradition, and though he never collected folk songs himself, Holst was very familiar with them through his friendship with Ralph Vaughan Williams.

A Somerset Rhapsody, which the orchestra will also perform, is the companion piece to Songs of the West, though it ultimately became the better known of the two.

No prom concert would be complete without some rousing sea songs from the choir, and in this instance the music is supplied by war composer and former director of music with the RAF, George Dyson, who wrote the Four Songs for Sailors in 1948. These pieces are great fun to perform and a joy to hear.

The concert is not to be an all-English affair, however. As a summer concert, the aim is also to usher in some sunshine and what better way to do that than with the sizzling and exotic Spanish Dance from Manuel de Falla's La Vida Breve.

The Mexican composer Manuel Ponce will also provide some heat in the form of his Concierto del Sur, originally written for the great virtuoso guitarist, Andrés Segovia, and performed by young classical guitarist, Jerome Ness, making a return appearance with the orchestra, before he begins his studies at the Royal College of Music in September.

This concert is an event not to be missed by anyone who enjoys inspiring, uplifting music and wants to get in the mood for the summer season.

Tickets are available in advance from ticketsource.co.uk/ormskirk-music-society or from Catherine Ness (01695 556548) or on the door priced at £10, £5 for under 18/student. For more information, visit ormskirkmusicsociety.org.uk or follow on facebook.com/OrmskirkMusicSociety.

Scarecrows popping up all around village

Dusty Bin scarecrow

A PARADE of fascinating, creative, amusing and topical scarecrows are popping up all around Halsall Village.

Come along and join in the fun on Saturday 22 and Sunday, June 23 from 1pm to 4pm and take part in the Scarecrow Trail.

Walk the short trail around the village centre to spot the little mice hidden among the Scarecrows and find answers to some simple questions.

Entry forms can be bought on the day from the stall in the middle of the village, at The Saracens Head, or at The Village Bakery.

Return your form (complete or not) to any of those places and the children can collect a little piece of "treasure".

Forms will then be entered into a draw so you have the chance to win one of the prizes donated by local businesses, including a family day out at Farmer Teds, a voucher to spend at the village bakery or a voucher for a meal at the Saracens Head.

The £4 entry fee raises money for the Halsall Proud and Tidy Group.

If you want to know what is in store then go to https://halsallscarecrows2019.weebly.com/ to get an idea of what you might see.

We will fly to Palma de Mallorca, where you will be met and taken to the ship, and we cruise out firstly to Ibiza, to enjoy the beaches, and the fun this island has to offer, then we cruise on to Naples, where you have the chance to go to Pompeii for the day, or across to Capri. Our next fort of call will be Livorno, where you can visit the amazing town of Florence, and go and see the leaning tower of Pisa! The next day we are in Genoa, home of the Pizza, and you can go to Portofino from here too, then the South of France beckons, with Marseilles providing an amazing place to spend the day, before we cruise back to Palma, and fly home.

During your cruise you will always have a wide choice of entertainment options and activities, taking place during the day, evening and night, from Broadway-style shows in the elegant theatre and glamorous nights in the casino to high-tech thrills in the 4D cinema or full-size Formula 1 Simulator.

There's a wide range of sports facilities, from tennis, basketball, mini-golf, jogging track and gym to an elegant pool complex.

The Top 18 sun deck and the MSC Aurea Spa offer peace and pampering, and there are dedicated areas for kids and teens.

What is included:

- All Flights
- Luggage
- Resort Transfers
- 7 nights full board on MSC Fantasia, with entertainment and all port charges
- Buffet that is open 20 hours a day - so you will never go hungry

PRAYERS

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

Never known to fail.

O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, faithful Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this necessity, O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother, O Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succour me in my necessity.

(Make Request).

There are none that can withstand your powers. Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 Times).

Sweet Mother, I place this cause in your hands (3 times).

Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine.

This prayer must be said for three days and after that the request will be granted and the prayer must be published.

Go Zoe! All-electric car capable of 242 miles on a single charge

RENAULT'S all-electric Zoe is now capable of travelling 242 miles on a single charge – nearly a third further than the outgoing version can manage.

The five-door supermini is now being offered with a 52kWh battery rather than a 40kWh one, which is quicker to charge, offers more straight-line performance and takes up no additional interior space.

Renault's also tweaked the car's styling and redesigned its dashboard.

There's no word on prices yet, but expect it to be here by the end of the year. Prices are expected to be similar to the £21,220 being asked for the outgoing model.

Renault has given the Zoe supermini a longer range as well as refreshed styling

The 3-Series encompasses everything

BMW has yet to confirm UK prices for their new vehicle

BMW'S latest 3-Series is now available in load-lugging estate form.

The 3-Series Touring encompasses everything from the entry-level, four-cylinder 320i to the twin-turbo, four-wheel-drive M340i in petrol form, with four turbodiesel models also on offer, all of which will be joined by a plug-in hybrid version this time next year.

The new estate is available to order now, with the first cars arriving here at the end of September.

LIFE ON CARS
with DAVID SIMISTER
www.lifeoncars.co.uk

THE MOST surprising car I've driven in the past year has just pulled another hankerchief out of its sleeve. The London black cab is now available – as a van.

It just doesn't sound right somehow, does it?

The Friday night ride home of choice across much of the capital – and an increasingly familiar sight in this part of the world too, particularly in Liverpool and Manchester – has been transformed from the B-pillars backwards into something that resembles a bloated Volkswagen Caddy, but beneath the skin shares the same combination of electric motors (and some internal combustion back-up, in the form of a 1.5-litre petrol engine as a range extender) as its more familiar, fare-fetching cousin.

While the London Electric Vehicle Company claims it can travel 377 miles in one hit – meaning that should The Champion ever launch an Inverness edition it'll be able to deliver a freshly-printed batch without having to stop to charge up – it's actually pitched as a response to what it calls "the Amazon-isation of retail".

In other words, all those short trips from parcel depots to your door because every other person on your street orders their stuff online. That's a lot of short hops for blokes in vans – and a lot of air pollution if it isn't kept in check.

LEVC is hoping its taxi-based van will appeal to eco-friendly businesses

But I reckon the van has the potential to be a hit for much the same reason the black cab is – it's really, really good at what it does.

When I drove the TX taxi last year I reckoned its ability to take contactless payment and provide drunken passengers with an in-built WiFi zone for their Instagram selfies was smart stuff – but not half as clever as the way it drove.

A seven-seater that's roughly the same size as a Land Rover Discovery Sport had the sort of turning circle you'd expect from a Smart, was a doddle to drive and had all of its electronic trickery harnessed by a Tesla-esque touchscreen that dominated the dashboard and was intuitively easy to use.

If LECV can give a van – even one that does look a bit like a drunken Austin A35 from the front – the same sort of qualities in something than can carry two Euro pallets, then I reckon it'll quickly build up a healthy queue of fans.

In fact, the biggest battle will be the one thing LEVC hasn't announced yet – the price. All that's been confirmed is that it'll be less than the £55k its taxi cousin currently costs, but bear in mind Nissan's all-electric NV200, with a 174-mile range, costs £19,116 before VAT.

You might not be able to get to Inverness in it, but that's a 35-grand saving.

The black cab makers might have to pull off some more magic to square that difference…

Fine all-round effort from Hughes sees Burscough win to go third in the table

IN the Second Division, Burscough continued their recent good run with a six wicket home win over Norley Hall.

Burscough asked the visitors to bat first and they bowled them out cheaply for just 89, with Ryan Hughes taking 4-37

Hughes then carried his bat in Burscough's with an unbeaten 57* to guide the hosts to victory on 91-4 and move his team up to third place in the table.

Hightown St Mary's recorded a seven wicket home win over Maghull.

The visitors chose to bat and thanks to runs from Joe Medew-Ewen 36 plus 31 each from Cam Lawrenson and Greg Gillespie managed to put 154 up on the board.

Jim Kelly 5-58 and Matt Laybourne 4-61 taking the bulk of the wickets to fall.

In reply, opener Jayden Schadendorf carried his bat and top scored with an unbeaten 81* whilst Laybourne capped off a fine display with an undefeated 28* which helped the hosts to victory on 156-3.

Southport Trinity suffered a five wicket defeat at runaway leaders Liverpool.

Trinity were put in to bat and dismissed inside 35 overs for just 74 with only Wim Van Der Walt 14 and Mark Prince 13 reaching double figures against an unchanged bowling attack led by Daniel Kelly 6-21 and Daniel Clubbe 4-48.

In reply, 24 from skipper Henry Charlton and an unbeaten 23* from Chris Tonge were pivotal in the hosts chase as clinched victory in the 27th over on 78-5, with skipper Craig Prince taking 3-35.

Lavelle in form with bat again as Ormskirk hammer Colwyn Bay

GEORGE Lavelle was again in form with the bat for Ormskirk on Saturday as his team recorded a 126 run win at Colwyn Bay.

After being put in to bat Ormskirk declared their innings on 220-7 with George Lavelle following up his century last Sunday with a score of 78.

He was helped by Gary Knight 34, Tom Hartley 33* and Ryan Maddock 30 as Ormkirk set a formidable total.

In their reply, Colwyn Bay were quickly reduced to 42-5 before being dismissed for 94, with Tom Hartley topping the bowling honours with 3-28, while skipper Nick Caunce, Scott Lees and Maddock took wickets apiece.

Leaders Bootle recorded a four wicket home win over Southport & Birkdale in a low scoring match at Wadham Road.

The win puts them 21 points clear at the top of the Liverpool & District Cricket Competition Premier Division table.

S&B elected to bat first and were duly dismissed for just 64 in the 34th over, thanks in the main to Will Purser who took 4-27 and Jhangir Liaqat who claimed 3-4.

George Lavelle.

The hosts also struggled with the bat as S&B made them fight for each run, but the hosts eventually reached 67-6 to clinch victory with Danny Davies top scoring with 17, whilst Angus Gailey took 3-17 with the ball.

Formby who started the day joint top had a frustrating weather affected afternoon at Orrell Red Triangle where they eventually lost by 20 runs.

The hosts were asked to bat first and thanks to runs from skipper Andrew Mottram 62*, Ian Lyon 41 and Chris Riley 29 declared their innings on 173-4, with Sam Oldham taking 3-46. The start of the visitors reply was hampered by the rain and despite the best efforts of James Seward 37, Oldham 36 and Ollie Sutton 25 they were dismissed in the 29th over for 153, with Afaq Sartaj the chief destroyer with the ball with 6-56.

Northern made light work of a seven wicket win at Lytham, where the hosts elected to bat and were quickly diminished for just 52 thanks to a five wicket haul from Tom Sephton who claimed 5-21 and Liam Grey who took 4-18, with Lancashire's Steven Croft top scoring with 23.

In reply, the loss of three early wickets didn't really matter as unbeaten knocks from Chris Laker 24* and skipper James Cole 23* led the visitors to victory on 56-3.

Skelmersdale hold their nerve in thrilling win

SKELMERSDALE hosted Birkenhead St Mary's on Saturday in a thrilling match that went down to the wire.

Captain Joe Till and Mike Houghton opened the batting with a mindset of hitting the accelerator until Till was bowled for 13.

The quick wickets of Matthew Wright and Chris Tromp derailed the good start but Houghton continued at the other end and was reinforced by Harry Marston

The pair stretched the field with excellent running and capitalised on loose bowling.

They breezed to their 50 partnership before Houghton was caught on 40 as he miscued a shot to mid-on.

The next ball, Marston was caught at mid-wicket for 30 and Skem knew the importance of maintaining their momentum.

Thankfully Jonas Smith and Ian Girvin did just that as they found the boundary at regular intervals and soon reached their 50 partnership.

Smith was caught for an enterprising 43 as Ian Girvin finished on 23 not out, well supported by Barry Leadbetter and Mikey Moss. Skem finished on a promising 180.

Smith and Houghton didn't disappoint in the opening overs as the former took one with the latter taking two to reduce St Mary's to 10-3.

Stubborn resistance from Hirst and Reid kept St Mary's in the game, despite tight bowling from Tromp and James Salleh.

Grey clouds were just as effective as Hirst and Reid were to threaten Skem's commanding position, but hankfully, the rain ceased while the run-rate increased.

Phil Wright started where he left off last week as he cashed in taking two wickets including the crucial scalp of Hirst.

St Mary's offered a fight back and threatened Skem needed a breakthrough to consolidate their position.

Thankfully, Matthew Wright claimed the wicket of Reid courtesy of a tremendous catch at long on by Tromp.

Skem then cantered to an easy win as they reduced St Mary's to 151.

This weekend's local LDCC fixtures (1pm): Bootle v Leigh, Colwyn Bay v Southport & Birkdale, Ormskirk v Wallasey, Orrell Red Triangle v Northern, Rainhill v Formby, Ainsdale v Highfield, Fleetwood Hesketh v Old Xaverians, Caldy v Southport Trinity, Hightown St Mary's v Burscough, and Parkfield Liscard v Maghull.

Work gets underway on Burscough's new stadium

WORK is set to start on Burscough FC's new stadium next to their present home at Victoria Park.

Club officials say a programme of works is about to start to prepare the new facility.

This will involve altering the existing pitch to allow construction access to the new development but the club say this would meet FA requirements.

The club is yet to decide whether the new stadium will have a grass or artificial pitch.

Burscough FC chairman Mike Swift, said: "This important milestone in the club's long and proud heritage has been achieved following the grant of planning consent, obtaining the site and assembling the finance for a significant construction project.

"To achieve delivery of the village's new forward looking facility, the existing pitch at Victoria Park has been altered with FA ratification.

"This will facilitate the essential service highway as the new stadium must be constructed, graded and commissioned before the fixtures can be transferred.

"As the new season fast approaches, the well used grass playing surface is being cared for with summer break and growing season maintenance by specialist contractors.

"Work on the final fittings for the new stadium are being supervised by the retained and experienced architects, with a working party of club supporters who were briefed after the club's recent AGM.

"High on the working party's agenda is the new stadium's playing surface, grass or artificial at the best possible grade.

"Study tour visits to other recently commissioned stadia are in process."

Once the team are able to play at the new stadium, the old Victoria Park will be developed for housing with 52 homes set to be built on the site.

Club president Rod Cottam and treasurer Stuart Heaps were joined by supporters, match day volunteers, club secretary Steve Halliwell, director of football and First Team manager Dave Sutton, and director of finance Martin Gilchrist.
